Associated Black Charities was founded in 1985 to represent and respond to issues of special significance to Maryland's African American Communities and to foster coordinated leadership on issues concerning these communities. The organization has nine standing committees of more than 200 community volunteers and also enjoys the ad hoc involvement of an average 250 additional volunteers annually for special projects and fundraising events.

Associated Black Charities in previous years has administered the Central Maryland portion of the MOTA program which ensured a partnership that included the American Indian, Hispanic, Asian American and African American communities.
